

Dining Out Alone Spots in NYC

Posted by dawnalang - 2009/10/14 18:24

A work colleague of mine is heading to NYC for a 1 month consulting gig. Can anyone recommend some restaurants that are good for solo diners?

=====

Re:Dining Out Alone Spots in NYC

Posted by matt - 2009/10/14 18:33

Here are a few classics:

Ouest on 81 and Broadway

Cesca on 74th and Amsterdam

City Hall in Tribeca

BLT Prime

=====

Re:Dining Out Alone Spots in NYC

Posted by SherriLang - 2009/10/19 07:56

- Aqua Grill is a classic
 - If you want a casual bistro try French Roast. They have a few locations but they are always packed with solo diners...
 - Bar Boulud has a communal table which is always a plus!
 - Scarpetta is great food and fun atmosphere and there ae always singles sitting at the bar eating!
- =====

Re:Dining Out Alone Spots in NYC

Posted by catherinette - 2009/10/24 19:07

I head up to NYC on my own every once in awhile and I ALWAYS head for Sarabeth's at Central Park. Have your friend ask for a table by the window. Food is FANTASTIC and there's GREAT people watching there.

=====